

Letter of High Recommendation

August 23,2005

Dear Readers,

My name is Greg Roberts I am the founder of Canadian Customer Debt Relief Inc. We specialize in debt settlement services and helping people avoid bankruptcy.

I have known Donna as a friend and business acquaintance for some time now and I have been nothing but impressed with Donnas drive and skills to help people overcome obstacles in their lives whether personal or business.

What sets Donna apart from her competition is that not only is she adequately equipped for her profession with regards to training and qualifications, she is successful with how she helps people by putting her clients interest long before her own.

Another distinguishing fact about Donna is not only does she coach people and businesses to overcome obstacles and achieve their dreams but she too believes so much in coaching that she has a coach of her own, which in my findings is not traditional of other coaches out there.

Donna is human and views herself as such, flaws and all which allows her to deal with her clients on a level of understanding and not at a level as to look down on others as herself being a better person than her students. This creates an immediate comfort for her clients.

I can more than comfortably recommend Donna's services to any and all interested in moving forward to reaching their dreams.

***With Donna on your team you can truly overcome any obstacle!
